1948 SQUAD RECALLS

THE TEAM'S WILL TO WIN

Clemson's 1947 team ended the season with vicotires over Furman, Duquesne and Auburn, but just prior to this, the Tigers had dropped five in a row and some of the wolves were howling for Frank Howard's scalp.

But as usual, the gnarled veteran weathered the tropical storm which never developed into a hurricane and came back the next season to solidify his head coaching position which would stretch to 30 seasons. It was 18 at the time.

In 1948 Howard took relatively the same team he had the year before, improved the ends, added a fullback, and turned a dismal four wins and five losses into a season to be admired throughout the nation.

Clemson posted a 10-0 season in claiming wins over Presbyterian, N. C. State, Mississippi State, South Carolina, Boston College, Furman, Wake Forest, Duquesne, Auburn and The Citadel.

And down in Jacksonville, a young struggling bowl (the Gator) was seeking ways to get on the ledger's black side.

Wake Forest defeated South Carolina 26-14, Jan. 1, 1946, when only 7,362 played to see these two teams rematched.

Oklahoma defeated N. C. State by a 34-13 score in the second Gator Bowl while Maryland and Georgia battled to a 20-20 tie in 1948. But in none of the first three games had the Gator Bowl operated out of the red.

But the Gator Bowl folks made a wise decision when they asked Clemson to its fourth game to face Missouri.

The Mizzou Tigs had lost its first game to Ohio State and the seventh to Oklahoma, scoring seven points in each game. Other than those two games, 20 points were their lowest output as St. Louis, Southern Methodist, Navy, Iowa State, Kansas State, Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas gave up a total of 294 points to Don Faurot's famed Split-T.

So enthusiastic were Clemson fans about going to a bowl that over 21,000 purchased tickets. The Gator Bowl had been enlarged to hold 36,000, and it was overflowing.

The youngest bowl, thanks to the rabid Clemson supporters, made a profit and was on its way.

There have now been 27 Gator Bowl games, and just last year, that Clemson-Missouri encounter was voted the best Gator Bowl game ever played. Howard still says it's the best football game he ever saw.

Clemson won the game, 24-23, and the margin of victory was a 32-yard field goal by Jack Miller. It was the only three pointer kicked by the Tigers that season.

But what had been called "the team's will to win" had carried them through the season undefeated and it did not plan to blow it, even through the odds were stacked against them.

After a so-so 53-0 win over Presbyterian, the Tigers combined a 90-yard punt return by Bobby Gage and a heroic effort on the one-foot line to repel N. C. State, 6-0.

A 21-7 win over Mississippi State raised some eyebrows, and it took a blocked punt by Phil Prince, which was run in by Oscar Thompson for a 13-7 victory over South Carolina in the annual Big Thursday Classic in Columbia before 25,000.

The same number was on hand in Braves Field in Boston nine days later when the Tigers met Boston College.

Ed "Butch" Songin, Eagle quarterback, threw 42 passes against the Tigers that night which set a new NCAA record at the time.

But Gage was making the most of his seven completions. Ray Mathews, John Poulos and Bob Hudson all caught scoring passes, and Fred Cone scored from the 18 on a rush.

Clemson drove 60, 46, 88, 92, 64 and 62 yards for scores against Furman the following Saturday and romped to a 41-0 victory.

Liberal substitution was used as no less than 10 Clemson backs recorded rushing yardage as the Tigers showed 499 yards of total offense. Carol Cox had 116 yards, Gage 104. Mathews scored three times.

The next week at Winston-Salem, the Tigers twice went seven points up, only to see Wake Forest come back for a tie each time.

Fianlly, early in the fourth quarter, Cone climaxed a 47-yard drive by bucking over from the one with the deciding score and a 21-14 triumph.

Duquesne furnished the opposition for homecoming, but the Dukes were no match for the Tigers, who ran up a 42-0 triumph.

Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was on hand and in an aftergame speech called the Tigers "the greatest team Clemson ever put on the football field."

Byrnes and Gov. J. Strom Thurmond headed a brilliant assemblage from all parts of the south. Howard was presented a new automobile, a gift of Clemson supporters from 27 states.

The Tigers were now two games away from an undefeated season and only weak Auburn and Citadel teams remained on the schedule.

Auburn was a 21-point underdog when the teams met in Ladd Stadium in Mobile. But a two-day rain was the equalizer, and the Tigers trailed, 6-0, late in the fourth period.

Mathews passed 24 yards to Thompson who went to the half foot line and Mathews bucked in from there. Miller made his 26th conversion out of 33 attempts to give Clemson a 7-6 win.

And in the final game, Mathews scored all three Tiger touchdowns to take the Southern Conference scoring title from Choo Choo Justice, and the Tigers won, 20-0, over The Citadel.

Today, members of that great 1948 team return to the campus for their 25th reunion. Many of the fans present today remember seeing this tremendous group of athletes perform.

It goes without saying that Clemson was, and still is, proud of the record established by this undefeated and untied 1948 team, Clemson's first since 1900.

Members of Clemson's undefeated and untied 1948 team will be recognized today at halftime on its 25th reunion. Members of that team were, first row, left to right, manager Doc Lachicotte, Dick Gillespie, Bobby Gage, Frank Gillespie, Oscar Thompson, Charlie Mooney, Ariel Warrick, Jack Miller, Gil Rushton, Jack Cox, Jim Miller, John Childress, Sterline Smith, Clint Dyer and Richard Sublette. Second row, left to right, Ed Martin, James Compton, Doug Herlong, Jack Calvert, John Banks, Luke Deanhardt, Gene Moore, Jud Davis, Billy Grigsby, Chick Gainer, Dick Hendley, Jim Reynolds, Billy DeLoach and Bonneau Brodie. Third row, left to right, manager Ray Aycock, Olin Cleveland, Ray Mathews, Fred Cone, Jack Brunson, Tom Coursey, Albert Willis, George Facchin, Bob Hudson, Bernie Graham, Ray Clanton, Bob Martin, Ed Cox, Wyndie Wyndham and Bill Preacher. Fourth row, left to right, Lloyd Bruce, John Poulos, Buddy Shugart, Tommy Skornschek, J. L. Crocker, Frank Carothers, Fred Jarrett, Jim Calvert, Gene Carson, Jimmy Jones, Tom Salisbury, Phil Prince, Herman Knight and Jim Whitmore. Absent were Bobby Williams, Carol Cox and Raymond West.

A MIGHTY FORTRESS

They named him "Rock" and quite appropriately.

Dating back to his collegiate days at Roanoke where he played every sport the school fielded, his stamina, ability and accomplishments became a mighty fortress in a very short time.

He is one of the State of Virginia's great natural athletes and the greatest ever produced at Roanoke College.

But his athletic fame didn't end with his college diploma. That is why the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association has named Absolam Willis (Rock) Norman the recipient of its prestigious Service To Sports Award as a testimony for "long, distinguished and unselfish service to athletics."

Norman spent 51 years in his chosen profession, 34 of them as coach of track, basketball and football at Clemson University, The Citadel, Furman University and the University of South Carolina.

Norman in 1940

His last college experience was an 18-year stay at Clemson where his track teams won 49 meets and lost 24. At one time his teams won 17 consecutive meets. He also spent six seasons as head basketball coach at Clemson, a position he also held at the other three colleges.

When he reached the mandatory retirement age at Clemson, he "retired" to Carlisle Military School at Bamberg for 10 more years of coaching and teaching before leaving athletics altogether.

After spending three years in high school coaching, Norman began his collegiate career at Roanoke in 1919 after service as an officer in France with the 77th Division Field Artillery in World War I where he distinguished himself both as a soldier and as an athlete in the Allied Games.

He likes to recall shaking hands twice with Gen. John J. Pershing after winning two medals at the AEF Meet in Paris in 1918.

After a year on the Roanoke staff and three at Bailey Military Academy, he coached five years at Furman, then eight at South Carolina and four at The Citadel before coming to Clemson.

He won 10 state and one conference

Norman coached freshman football when he first came to Clemson in 1940. Two "rats" who came along soon after that were Leo Fisher, left, and Chip Clark, right.

Norman's main claim to fame were his track teams. Here with two Tiger footballers, who doubled in the field events, are Dreher Gaskin, Norman and Buck George.

track championship at the four South Carolina schools.

Norman has been enshrined in the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame and in 1967 was the recipient of the Roanoke College Medal which "recognizes distinctive service as well as professional achievement." Five years later Norman was inducted into the Roanoke College Hall of Fame.

Norman, a widower, now makes his home in Clemson just a couple hundred yards from the field house where he helped develop hundreds of athletes.

He celebrated his 81st birthday three weeks ago today and is a living example of clean living and hard work.

The "Rock" has withstood the ages and has set an example for others to follow on and off the field.

The Texas A & M Series

The meeting between Clemson and Texas A&M today marks the first time the two schools have met in football and the Aggies are only the third Southwest Conference team to be met by the Tigers.

Previous encounters with Rice (3-3) and Texas Christian (2-1) have given the Tigers a 5-4 record, but they've always been physical clashes which provided no room for the undernourished. Clemson has scored 119 points in its nine games against Southwest Conference teams and has given up 125.

The series with the Aggies is only for two years. The Tigers return the game to open the 1974 season September 14th at College Station.

Both Clemson and Texas A&M enter today's game with 1-2 overall records. And this will be the final tune up before each team starts its conference competition next week. The Tigers face Virginia at home next Saturday in homecoming as the Aggies meet Texas Tech in Lubbock.

Coach Red Parker of Clemson this week said the Aggies had "the finest assembled group of physical talent on our schedule. I hope this doesn't scare anyone," Parker continued, "but they are the best endowed team we have played this year."

There are only eight seniors on the Aggie squad, and just one of these has a letter. Parker says that Coach Emory Bellard "has had the two finest back-to-back recruiting years of any school in the nation" since taking over at A&M following the 1971 season.

Parker's statement is backed up by the fact that one senior, one junior and nine sophomores are on the starting offensive team and five of these sophomores lettered as freshmen last year. The defense is composed of one senior, seven juniors and three sophomores, but one of these sophomores, linebacker Ed Simonini, was voted the outstanding freshman defensive performer in the SWC a year ago.

The Aggies have put 94 points on the board, including 22 against LSU at Baton Rouge. A big threat is split end Carl Roaches, who is also used on kickoff returns. He returned the opening boot against Boston College for 100 yards last Saturday night, and his next two were returned for 50 and 38 yards.

Clemson is averaging over 317 yards of total offense in its first three games, led by the 8.5 yard average per carry of Jay Washington, a 5.8 average by Smiley Sanders and the 4.6 of Ken Callicutt. Ken Pengitore is the total offensive leader (469 yards) of the Tigers and has played every snap of the last two games.

Welcome to Clemson University

Welcome to Clemson University and to an afternoon of football in "Death Valley." It is always a pleasure to have you on the campus and to know that you share with us the sense of pride which we have for all the young athletes who wear the uniform of the Clemson Tigers. Their hard work and dedicated effort, as they prepare each week for Saturday's game, reflect what we feel is the true spirit of all Clemson students as they strive to attain the goals which they have set for themselves.

A commitment to excellence not only in the classroom and the laboratory but also on the playing field and in the athletic contest is in the finest tradition of Clemson University.

It is a commitment which was first made for us by our founder, Thomas Green Clemson, who almost a century ago saw the great need in this state for a scientifically oriented institution of higher learning to provide our young people with the training which was needed to build a better society. From then until now Clemson students have been challenged to do their best in whatever task they were engaged.

As the years have passed the scope and mission of Clemson's service to the state and the nation have been enlarged. Institutions like individuals do not stand still. We are now engaged in teaching, research, and public service in those areas most often associated with a land-grant university actively seeking to meet the needs of the people it serves. As those needs have varied or changed we have adjusted our capabilities for service.

Today Clemson University is in the strongest position to serve the citizens of this state and nation and the people of the world that it has ever occupied. Our undergraduate programs are of the highest quality. In our graduate studies and research efforts we have made significant progress within the last twenty years. And we are now engaged in greatly expanding our ability to meet the continuing educational needs of the adults in our society. To this end and with the aid of a very generous appropriation which was authorized by the General Assembly we are preparing to erect very shortly on this campus a Continuing Education Center which will give us superb facilities for educational programs specifically designed to meet the needs of all adults who want to prepare themselves to serve better wherever they are and whatever they are doing.

One of the strongest bonds which has served to unite all of us who are Clemson supporters has been our common interest in the success of our athletic teams. For many of us this interest is but an outward and visible symbol of a deeper love and affection which we have for the entire University and all that it stands for in our lives and in the world.

IPTAY--

Special Recognition

The Clemson IPTAY Club surpassed its membership goal for 1972-73, and for the ninth straight year, an increase was seen in funds contributed to the club.

With a goal set for $565,000, the final tally read just over $579,000, or 102 per cent of the goal. This marked the second straight year that over a half million dollars had been realized by IPTAY.

Several thousand former Clemson student-athletes, as well as several hundred currently enrolled at the university, depend solely on contributions from individuals and firms for their education. Every penny received by IPTAY since its beginning in 1934 has been used for athletic scholarships only.

Clemson has set an outstanding example for other educational institutions throughout the nation with its IPTAY program. It is probably the finest collegiate booster club in America today.

On the following pages, we have listed those people and business organizations who are being recognized for their interest and continued support of IPTAY.

Bill McLellan, Director of Athletics

In the last two and one half years, things have been happening around the Clemson Athletic Department. For the most part, these things have been in the right direction.

One finger can be pointed at one person for keeping the ship on an even keel—Bill McLellan, director of athletics.

McLellan “came up through the ranks” in the athletic department and has learned the intricate operation of a big time athletic program through listening, observing, digesting and analyzing the many problems which surround him 24 hours a day, 365 days of the year.

The Hamer, S. C., native has the knack to listen to four different conversations going on in his office at one time and be talking on another subject on the phone and grasp all that is going on in all five.

McLellan is tough and firm, but he is also fair with all the people he deals with. It's gotta be that way because he has to answer to the university administration, the Atlantic Coast Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association on any matter concerning about 300 athletes.

But at the same time, he is responsible for protecting and seeking to better the athletic interests of Clemson students, university faculty and staff, IPTAY members and other alumni and friends of the school.

There are also the daily problems of nine head coaches and their assistants, and a multitude of other things too numerous to mention. Needless to say, McLellan has little trouble getting in his eight hours everyday.

McLellan has seen a great transition in athletics at Clemson in his 23-year association with the department. From DC-4 airplanes to 600 mile an hour jets, from run-down hotels to modern motels, from a 20,000 to a 43,451 capacity stadium, improved protective equipment, from a non-equipped to an ultra modern training room, from a relative one-sport school to one fielding teams in 11 sports, from booster club support of a few thousand dollars a year to over a half million dollars and modern athletic facilities in all directions.

The old wooden seats in Memorial Stadium were replaced before last season with new aluminum contour seats. A new all-weather, nine-lane track was used for the first time this past spring. Sixteen hard-surfaced tennis courts, all lighted, are available and more are planned. Three new football practice fields, one equipped with the latest lighting techniques, are now in use.

The expanded intramural program is in full swing and with it, the renovation of Fike Field House. Already available for student use are four basketball courts, three with tartan floor. When construction is completed on Fike there will be over a dozen hand ball courts, wrestling room, modern dance room, golf room and other facilities strictly geared for student use.

On the backside of Fike will be the new swimming facilities with a 60x42 foot diving tank and a pool 75'1" long by 60' wide, along with a 650-capacity spectator area.

Expected to be occupied during football season this fall is the Jervey Athletic Center which will house the athletic department administrative offices, coaches' offices, dressing facilities for all sports, ticket office, an auxiliary gym, a dirt area for inside workouts, training and equipment rooms and other allied facilities necessary for an efficient athletic operation.

McLellan has seen or is seeing all of this happen. And much of it is due to the driving force and record pace that McLellan stays on.

McLellan lettered two years in football under former coach Frank Howard and was a member of the 1952 Tiger Gator Bowl team.

He received his BS in agronomy from Clemson in 1954 and then was awarded a graduate assistantship while working on his MS degree in agricultural economics which he received in 1956. He officially joined the athletic staff May 1, 1958 and was listed as assistant business manager. Between then and the time he was appointed assistant athletic director in 1966 and then director of athletics Feb. 4, 1971, he literally served in almost every available capacity in the department from grounds man to ticket sales to assistant coach. He was qualified in all categories just as he is in his present position.

McLellan is married to the former Ann Rogers of Fork, S. C., and they are the parents of four children, two daughters, Suzy, 18, and Arch Anna, 11, and two sons, Bill, 16, and Cliff, 15.

Red Parker, Head Football Coach

"I promise you that I'll leave no stone unturned, and that I will leave no avenue unexplored, in an attempt to put this program over the top and in a way that Clemson fans, alumni, students, and the guys who get out there and do the sweating deserve. As far as I'm concerned, there's only one way to go -- and brother, that's to win. And we're going to get after that winning."

It was last December, the 5th to be exact, when Jimmy Dale "Red" Parker uttered those words before a large gathering at the Clemson House. Because it was that day that the smiling red head from Hampton, Ark., was named as the Tigers 19th head coach.

But although the move to this beautiful campus in the northwestern part of the State of South Carolina was a new stop for him, Parker is not a newcomer to the head coaching ranks. In his 20 previous years of his successful coaching career, he has never served as anything less than a head mentor.

In 1953, following graduation from Arkansas A&M, where he earned three letters each in football, baseball, and track, Parker began his illustrious career, at the age of 21, at Fordyce, Ark., High School.

Before assuming the reins at Fordyce, the Arkansas school had dropped 22 games in a row. But when the dynamic red head had completed his eighth, and final, season in the prep ranks, Parker's achievements included a 37-game winning streak, three championships, and a won-lost mark of 75-12-4.

He was named head coach at his alma mater in 1961, where he stayed through the 1965 season, and saw Arkansas A&M post a five-year record of 29 wins, 19 losses, and two ties. But his last three campaigns were his best as the school claimed two conference titles and had a won-lost record of 24-5-1.

Parker's third head coaching position came at The Citadel -- The Military College of South Carolina. In his initial campaign, 1966, the Bulldogs battled through a 4-6 season. But in only his second year, 1967, The Citadel recorded more wins (5) than any other Bulldog team had managed since the 1961 unit went 7-3 on the year.

Then in 1968, Parker inserted the famed "Citadel Veer" offense. He refined and worked with that potent offense until it reached almost total perfection in 1971. That season, the Bulldogs amassed 5,030 total yards, which ranked The Citadel fourth in the nation in that department, scored 366 points, and posted a 8-3 record.

But with the close of the 1972 grid season, a seven-year stint at the small military college, which saw Parker instill fear in his opponents and record an overall mark of 39-34 with the dreaded "Citadel Veer," also came to a close.

The Tigers have changed their coach, but not their stripes; and although Parker has changed schools, the personable red head has not changed his enthusiasm nor his dedication. He's still the Vince Lombardi-Knute Rockne-George Patton-influenced coach he was when he began his career at the age of 21.

"I wouldn't predict that we're going to whip cream," related Parker, when questioned about the prospects of beating a certain opponent in 1973. "But I guarantee you one thing -- anybody that does whip us had better bring a lunch, because it's going to be a long afternoon." That's Red Parker.

Parker is married to the former Betty Goggans of Rison, Ark. They have two daughters, Vicki and Cindy, and a son, Jim Mack.

THE RED LOBSTER is a Harbor for Seafood Lovers. We Specialize in Fresh Florida Seafood but some of our Seafoods come from distant points of the compass, such as Maine, Maryland, Alaska, Peru, Chile and even South Africa to name but a few.

Each dish is prepared from knowledge gained and recipes developed dating back as far as 1945 when our first Seafood Restaurant was established in Florida.

DWIGHT ADAMS Linebacker Coach

A jovial and personable individual, Dwight Adams joined the Clemson staff this past January, coming from The Citadel where he served for the past seven seasons under first-year Tiger mentor Red Parker.

Adams, a native of Dover, Ark., held the title of assistant defensive coach and specialized in the ends and linebackers.

An all-conference grid selection as a collegian, Adams graduated from Henderson State with a BS in education in 1958.

His coaching career began at Pine Bluff, Ark., High School where he spent four seasons. And from there he journeyed to Lake Charles, La., as a prep coach for one season before joining Parker at The Citadel.

Since he began his coaching career, Adams has coached eight high school or college All-Americans, including two all-pro players.

Adams is married to the former Jo Bickham of Tillar, Ark., and they are the parents of three children—two daughters, Jana, 14; and Ruth, 10; and a son, Scott, 12.

TOM BASS Defensive End Coach

Now the senior member of the Clemson staff, Tom Bass enters his seventh campaign with the Tigers, and under his third different head coach.

Bass came to Clemson from Tennessee and was head freshman coach from 1967 through the 1969 season under Frank Howard.

His next three years were spent under Hootie Ingram as defensive interior line coach and first-year coach Red Parker has switched Bass to the position of defensive end mentor.

The likable Bass earned his BA degree in biology from Maryville College in 1960 and was a standout in both baseball and football.

He entered the coaching field at Sevier County High School where he was an assistant one year prior to being named head coach, a position he held for the next four seasons.

Bass led his prep team to an overall four-year mark of 35-7-2, and was named East Tennessee's "Coach-of-the-Year" in 1964. He was an assistant at UT one year before coming to Clemson.

Bass, a native of Mooresville, N. C., is married to the former Susan Price of Knoxville, Tenn., and they have three children, Thomas Steven, 7; Laura Jane, 4; and John McAndrew, 3.

LARRY BECKISH Receiver Coach

One of the finest offensive coaches in the game, Larry Beckish, like Tom Bass, will enter the 1973 season under his third different Clemson mentor.

Beckish, a native of Haledon, N. J., received his BA degree in education from Wichita State in 1963 where he was a standout grid performer, serving as captain and being named to the All-Missouri Valley Conference team as a senior.

He remained at his alma mater the next two campaigns as an assistant and then moved to Tampa for a two-year stint as offensive line coach.

Beckish then joined Frank Howard's staff at Clemson in 1968 and served two seasons under the Bashful Baron and one under Hootie Ingram in 1970.

Fran Curci, then the head coach at Miami, acquired the services of Beckish for the 1971 campaign, putting the young coach in charge of the Hurricanes offensive backfield.

He returned to Clemson last fall, serving as head jayvee coach, and led the Cubs to a 3-1-1 mark.

He is married to the former Alice Morley of Wichita, Kan., and they are the parents of two sons, Michael, 8; and Chris, 3.

JOE BURSON Defensive Backfield Coach

If enthusiasm and dedication were tangible assets, then Joe Burson would be the most wealthy person in the world.

Called "one of the finest young coaches in the game" by Clemson mentor Red Parker, Burson, who hails from Newnan, Ga., enters his fourth season on the Tigers grid staff.

A standout defensive back under Vince Dooley at Georgia, he graduated from the Athens institution in 1966 with a BS degree in industrial arts.

The ex-Bulldog was then drafted by the NFL's Washington Redskins, but a knee injury ended his professional career.

Burson's first coaching position came at Griffin, Ga., High School where he spent two seasons before coming to Clemson prior to the 1970 campaign.

In his initial year on the Tiger staff, he served as defensive coordinator for the freshman squad and the next year, 1971, was elevated to the varsity staff as defensive end coach, a position he held through the 1972 season.

Following Parker's first spring practice with the Tigers, the newly-appointed Clemson mentor assigned Burson to the defensive backfield.

Burson was married to the former Denise Johanson of North Caldwell, N. J., in August.

Quarterback Coach DON MURRY

When Red Parker came to Clemson, one of his first moves was to hire offensive-minded Don Murry, who had served under him for the past seven years at The Citadel.

Born in Harrison, Ark., Murry, who was an all-conference prepster in both football and basketball at Warren High School, earned four grid letters in football at Arkansas A&M under Parker.

He received his BS degree in education in 1966, and then served as a graduate assistant at his alma mater the following year.

Murry then joined his old grid coach at The Citadel and soon built the reputation as being one of the top young offensive coaches in the game.

He served on Parker's Bulldog staff as flanker and receiver coach. Murry's top product during his seven years at The Citadel was All-American Brian Baima, who led the nation in most yards receiving (1,237 yards) on 64 catches in 1971.

Murry is married to the former Libby Gibbs of Crossett, Ark. They are the parents of one son, Barry, 3, and one daughter, Leslie Anne, born Sept. 9th.

Offensive Line Coach DUKE OWEN

One of the most popular and well-liked personalities on the Clemson campus, Duke Owen begins his fourth season as a Tiger Assistant.

The Lebanon, Ky., native received his BS degree in mathematics from Georgetown, Ky., College in 1953, entered the coaching field in the prep ranks, and immediately established himself as one of the top coaches in the game.

He guided Mount Sterling, Ky., High School to a nine-year record of 76-29-4, and to the state playoffs in three of his first five seasons.

The "Iron Duke" jumped to the college scene in 1964 at Kentucky and remained there through the 1968 season. Owen spent the 1969 campaign at Cincinnati where he served as offensive line coach.

Armed with nothing more than determination and a handful of dedicated players, Owen came to Clemson in 1970 and guided the freshman unit to an impressive 4-1 mark, which included three shutout wins in the final three games of the year. He assumed duties of the varsity offensive line in 1971.

Owen is married to the former Florence Deeb of Louisville, Ky., and they have two sons, David, 15; and Mitchell, 13.

Offensive Running Back Coach STEVE SATTERFIELD

After having earned the distinct honor of being recognized as one of the top high school coaches in the game, Steve Satterfield joined the Clemson staff prior to the 1971 season.

A product of Greer, Satterfield played his college ball at South Carolina where he quarterbacked the Gamecocks for three seasons, being named to the All-Atlantic Coast Conference Scholastic team in 1958.

Satterfield was a prep assistant for four years before taking over the head duties at Greenville's Wade Hampton High School.

The following season, Satterfield moved to Sumter and guided Edmunds High to a six-year mark of 45-19-3.

Included in his tenure at Edmunds, was an undefeated 12-0 mark in 1969 and a 4-A state championship trophy.

Satterfield, who holds his masters degree from Appalachian State, was head freshman coach at Clemson in his initial season, was elevated as offensive backfield coach last fall, and now will work with Tiger running backs.

He is married to the former Barbara Woodall of Taylors, and they have three children, Keleigh, 13; Steven, 9; and Susan Joy, 1½.

Defensive Line Coach HAROLD STEELMAN

A man who always has a smile on his face, Harold Steelman, like Dwight Adams and Don Murry, came with Red Parker from The Citadel following the 1972 season.

The Pine Bluff, Ark., native spent two years at Little Rock Junior College as a grid performer before heading on to Arkansas, where he graduated in 1955 with a BS in education.

While with the Razorbacks, Steelman played on Arkansas' 1954 Cotton Bowl team.

He spent two years each in the prep coaching ranks at Texarkana, Lewisville, and Eldorado High Schools before joining Parker on the staff at Arkansas A&M.

He remained with the red head at the Arkansas school and also came with him to The Citadel in 1966.

Steelman spent his past seven seasons with the Bulldogs, holding the title as head defensive coach with overall defensive responsibilities and specializing with the interior line.

He is married to the former Carolyn Corley of Little Rock, Ark., and they are the parents of a daughter, Sara Lyn, 17; and a son, Hal, 14.

ED EMORY Jayvee Coordinator

Considered one of the top prep coaches in the South, Ed Emory joined the Clemson staff this past July from Brevard, N. C., High School.

Following graduation from East Carolina in 1960, where he was a standout linemen for the Pirates, Emory was an assistant at Kinston, N. C., High School three years, before being named as head mentor at Wadesboro, N. C., High.

Emory held that position for a total of four seasons and was then tabbed as head coach at Wadesboro's Bowman High School in 1968. Then after a one-year stint at Wake Forest, Emory went to Brevard where he has posted a 35-7 mark over the past four seasons.

Three times he has been named as a conference coach-of-the-year, twice in Wadesboro, and once at Brevard, and in 1971 Emory was tabbed as the Western North Carolina Coach-of-the-Year. His overall coaching record is 75-17-2.

He is married to the former Virginia Jones of Greenville, N. C., and they have one daughter, Lucille, 11; and a son, Battle, 7.

RONNIE CARTER Asst. Jayvee Coach and Recruiter

All the way from the seventh grade to the staff at Clemson, Ronnie Carter has been with Red Parker—either as a player or as a coach.

A native of Fordyce, Ark., Carter played for the red head at Fordyce High School, where the former lettered in football, basketball, and track, prior to his graduation in 1961.

After spending a year and a half at the University of Arkansas, Carter transferred to Arkansas A&M where he was a standout running back for Parker before graduating in 1967.

He entered the coaching field the next year at Monticello, Ark., and after serving as an assistant, was elevated to head coach where he battled through a 3-7-1 record in his initial year, but came back with a fine 7-4 mark the next season.

Carter then moved to Charleston where he served as an assistant at St. Andrews for one year, assumed the head duties the next, and posted a two-year mark of 16-5 as the Rocks mentor.

Carter is married to the former Diane Rash of Monticello, Ark., and they have one daughter, Jennifer, 18 months.

TOM MOORE Assistant Jayvee Coach

It was almost like a homecoming for Tom Moore when Red Parker assumed the head coaching reins at Clemson last December. Because Moore, a native of Dayton, O., played college ball under the red head at The Citadel.

Moore, who preped at Beaver Falls, Pa., High School and played on the same team with New York Jet quarterback Joe Namath, earned three letters at The Citadel as a halfback and wide receiver.

As a senior, Moore was selected as one of the co-captains for the Cadets and also earned All-Southern Conference recognition.

Following graduation in 1967 with a BS in political science, Moore served as a graduate assistant at his alma mater one season.

He was then named as offensive coordinator at Aurora Central, Colo., High School and stayed there one year before moving to the college ranks at Wichita State.

At WSU, Moore was head freshman mentor in 1968, and then receiver coach for the varsity in 1969 and 1970.

He joined the Clemson staff prior to the 1971 season.

Moore is married to the former Joyce Stewart of Clemson and they have one son, Rhett.

WILLIAM SWINGER Assistant Jayvee Coach

The newest addition to Red Parker's Clemson staff is the personable William Swinger, who joined the family this past summer from Will Roberts' successful program at Anderson's Westside High School.

Swinger was a three-sport standout as a prepster at Westside and quarterbacked the grid team to the state championship his senior season in 1961. He then entered South Carolina State on a football scholarship, where he was tabbed both all-state and all-conference as a signal-caller and a defensive safety prior to receiving his BS degree in physical education in 1965.

New Deal High School in Starr was his first stop in the coaching ranks where he served as both the head football and basketball coach for two seasons before moving on to his alma mater as an assistant.

After a two-year stint in the U. S. Army, including some time in Viet Nam, Swinger returned to Westside where he has been coaching for the past three years.

He is married to the former Lois Yvonne Carter of Anderson and they are the parents of one daughter, Monique, 2½.

CLYDE WRENN Recruiting Coordinator

An around-the-clock and diligent worker, Clyde Wrenn enters his second season on the Clemson staff, and has just completed his first full year as the Tigers chief recruiter.

The Chester native played baseball at Spartanburg Junior College, transferred to N. C. State after two years, and earned his BS degree in recreation and park administration in 1965.

The year after his graduation, Wrenn was named as head assistant football and head baseball coach at Florence's Southside High School.

Wrenn, who earned his masters from Western Carolina, remained at Southside for five seasons before accepting the position as athletic director and head football coach at West Florence High School.

Then following a two-year tour of duty there, he came to Clemson prior to the 1972 campaign as an assistant jayvee coach and also worked with both recruiting and scouting.

Wrenn is married to his former hometown sweetheart, Willa Lynn, and they are the parents of two sons, Craig, 4; and Cal, 1.

Head Trainer FRED HOOVER

Recognized by his peers as one of the top trainers in the country, Fred Hoover begins his 15th season as a valuable member of the Clemson staff.

"Doc" Hoover earned his BS degree in physical education from Florida State in 1953, where he served as trainer in 1952-53 and again in 1957-58.

The Jacksonville, Fla., native is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, and has served as a past district director and past national president of the NATA, and has just completed a year as the national convention chairman of that organization.

Hoover handled the training duties for the United States at the Pan American games in Sao Paulo, Brazil in 1963, and was selected to serve on the staff in the Olympic games in Munich, Germany last summer.

He is married to the former Elva Cook of Mt. Vernon, Ill., and they have one daughter, Catherine Ann, 15; and one son, Bryan, 12.

Assistant Trainer HERMAN MCGEE

"Mr. Clemson," Herman McGee, has taped more ankles of Clemson athletes than of all other trainers combined, because Herm has been with the Tigers for the past 39 years.

In his tenure, the Pendleton native has served as assistant trainer, head trainer, and equipment manager.

He can tell you everything about every Clemson athlete since he has been with Clemson, and about all seven bowl appearances the Tigers have made—from the 1940 Cotton through the 1959 Bluebonnet.

McGee is married to the former Lucia Greene of Pendleton.

Assistant Trainer WALTER MCCOMBS

The most recent addition to Fred Hoover's top-flight training staff came in the form of smiling redheaded Walt McCombs, who joined the Clemson staff this past August from the University of Kentucky.

A native of Belton, McCombs spent his prep days in Greenville where he graduated from Parker High School in 1967. He then enrolled at The Citadel, where he served as a student trainer four years, and earned his B.S. degree in physical education in 1971.

Following graduation from The Military College of South Carolina, he joined the Kentucky staff as a graduate assistant on the training staff, working with football, and held that position for some three months before being named as head basketball trainer.

McCombs, who is single, served as head cage trainer for the Wildcats the past two seasons.

Equipment Manager TOM BURTON

A dedicated worker, Tom Burton enters his fifth season as equipment manager on the Clemson athletic staff. "Sarge" handles his equipment in the same manner he handled his recruits during a 22-year career in the U. S. Army—in top shape.

The Richmond, Va., native served in eight foreign countries in the military, including Asiatic-Pacific area, Germany, and three tours of the Far East.

Burton was no newcomer to the college scene as he has served on the Furman ROTC staff one year, and on the Clemson ROTC staff seven years. At Clemson, Burton was also chaperone for the Tiger band.

He is married to the former Bea Davis of Lynchburg, Va., and they are the parents of two daughters, Jan, 20; and Jerry, 19.

Academic Advisor RICK ROBBINS

Some call him "Braincoach," and some call him "Colonel." Regardless of the title, Rick Robbins coaches more than 300 Clemson athletes each year as the Tigers academic advisor.

In his spare time, the Austin, Tex., native serves as Clemson's assistant track coach.

Robbins graduated from the University of Texas and retired from the U. S. Army with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Robbins is responsible for the many Clemson athletes graduating with honor and has aided, successfully, in the negotiations between many Tiger athletes and professional teams.

He is married to the former Clare Eaves of Palestine, Tex. They have two sons, Dick, 19, a Clemson sophomore; and Tommy 15.

ARA-Slater's philosophy is a unique, systematic approach designed to achieve our most important goal: STUDENT SATISFACTION. This concept is a result of our experience with millions of students. We have the flexibility to understand your needs and the capability to satisfy them.

At Clemson, ARA demonstrates practical, new methods for providing nourishing, well-balanced meals to athletes, students and staff. Our corporate and regional specialists give ARA's dining service manager expert advice in planning menus, purchasing goods, controlling waste, utilizing labor. The support of this team effort is carried out daily in Schilletter Hall and Harcombe Commons, and at the Clemson House Buffeteria. It is our desire to serve students what they want and to accommodate them by providing this same efficient service for special events or festive holiday meals.

We're here to provide the type of service that will benefit the entire school and community. THAT'S WHAT WE THINK A DINING SERVICE IS ALL ABOUT.

Introducing the 1974 Chevelle Malibu Classic. Luxury just stopped being a spectator sport.

That's right. This is a 1974 Chevelle. The brand-new Malibu Classic.

Which means that now you can do a whole lot more than look at luxury cars in football programs. You can participate.

At any Chevrolet dealer's.

All this, for the price of a Chevelle.

In thousands of South Carolina homes today, housewives serve meals which are more nutritious because of what they have learned through a special Clemson University nutrition program.

A new all-ceramic hip joint developed in the College of Engineering promises new hope for persons with crippling arthritis.

The peanut flake, a new Clemson-developed food product, may become a major source of protein in a variety of foods and lead to an increased demand for peanuts that would be a boon to farmers throughout the Southeast.

The textiles department is helping industry meet federal standards in the broad area of occupational safety and health, and specifically in areas of noise abatement and cotton dust monitoring. Research by textile chemists is providing the textile and fiber industry with information necessary to develop new flame-retardant systems to meet federal flammability standards and improve the flame-resistance of children's nightwear, carpeting, and mattresses.

Although these statements deal with solutions to different human problems, they share the common thread of relevance which is vital to a growing university in today's economic climate.

These research and public service activities are especially meaningful to the progress of college and university development programs which, faced with limited amounts of public tax dollars, must rely on and seek an increasing amount of private financial support. They testify to an institution's ability to play an active and indispensable role in serving the needs of a changing society.

"Clemson's programs are touching people's lives everyday," says Stanley G. Nicholas, vice president for development, "because they are relevant to the citizens we serve."

"A university must be able to demonstrate that its programs are worthwhile and deserving of consideration in such a highly competitive arena as private fund-raising," he adds.

"You don't ask someone to invest in vague programs whose objectives are not defined," Nicholas explains. "The fact that someone is willing to make a gift of hard-earned dollars demonstrates faith and believability in the institution's work. Programs should produce positive results."

Nicholas became Clemson's chief development officer in September, 1970. Since then, Clemson has launched a long-range fund-raising program to supplement public financing for current and proposed academic programs.

Begun in 1972, the campaign is aimed at foundations, businesses and individuals to provide additional revenues of some $17-million by 1982. More than $1.3 million of that goal was achieved the past calendar year.

Nicholas' philosophy that an institutional development program should consist of more than a fund-raising plan is reflected in the current 10-year phase of Clemson's total program, which, unlike those which represent a one-shot campaign, will be a continuing one based on Clemson's needs.

"To succeed, it must embrace planning for the total growth and needs of the entire university and must start with a sound program of planning for the academic programs," Nicholas says.

"I see the current development program as an organic blueprint for the financial base on which Clemson must build its future programs of education, research, and public service," he says. "It is organic because it will grow as the university grows and meet the year-to-year changing needs and opportunities."

Nicholas says the current $17-million plan is a realistic figure based on set goals arrived at after much consultation with students and faculty. "While the current phase emphasizes needs for the immediate decade ahead, it is designed as a permanent tool for Clemson planning," Nicholas explains.

1972 1982 THE TEN YEAR PROGRAM

By John L. Allen

Associate Director of Public Relations

Nicholas says that private support monies are used in three major areas of need: student aid, faculty aid, and physical facilities aid (including new educational and research equipment needs).

"An expanded program of financial aid to students and faculty is a major priority of our ten-year plan," says Nicholas.

Gifts will be used to provide more scholarships and fellowships and other financial support for needy and gifted students; provide salary supplements to selected faculty; create an endowed chair ($25,000 per academic year) in each of Clemson's nine colleges; fund a visiting professorship ($25,000 per year) in each college; and double the number of volumes in the University library.

Nicholas emphasizes that state government and the people of South Carolina have been generous in their support and continue to make possible many expanded and stronger programs. "But just like the average consumer, the state has also felt the pinch of the tight dollar," says Nicholas.

"But Clemson is not a status quo institution and we must seek additional sources of support to advance programs which we believe are vital to the state's needs," says Nicholas.

"In short, continued strong public support and a vigorous development program of private fund-raising will give us the kind of two-fisted combination needed to make the difference between adequacy and excellence."

Nicholas reports that the $1,374,404 received in 1972 represents a record year of giving in the private support category and exceeds the first year goal of the 10-year plan. Last year's private gifts were led by the alumni donations representing 77 per cent of the total.

A very significant arm of the total program is The Clemson University Foundation, established as a non-profit organization to serve as the repository for private gifts. Its directors — alumni, prominent businessmen and community leaders — are actively seeking new sources of private support.

Within the Foundation, a variety of programs have been set up through which contributions can be made to Clemson. These include the Deferred Giving Program which last year received its first gifts totaling $155,924 (deferred gifts become available for the university's use after the donor's death), and the Pooled Income Fund.

Other highlights of the 1972 program include completion and opening of a modern Alumni Center which also serves students and faculty. The building was financed entirely by alumni gifts earmarked for this purpose.

Nicholas reports that 1973 got off to a tremendous beginning with the March announcement that a deferred gift of $500,000 to the Foundation will enable Clemson to establish an endowed chair in bioengineering — the first fully endowed chair ever created at Clemson. The gift is from Thomas M. Hunter, a 1909 Clemson graduate, and his wife, the late Mrs. Louise M. Hunter.

Clemson

Alumni Association

This organization

of Clemson alumni exists for only two purposes: to serve Clemson University and its students and to serve Clemson alumni. It does the second by providing an organization, records, programs and publications through which the alumni may stay abreast of the progress of their University and of their own personal, civic and professional development. It does the first by sponsoring the Clemson Alumni Loyalty Fund, dedicated to furthering the student welfare and educational mission of the University.

Summed up

Clemson's overall educational capability has been enhanced by some $3.3 million since the Loyalty Fund began in 1956. By and large, this has accrued to the benefit of Clemson students. To this end, I invite every Clemson alumnus and alumna to make a gift to Clemson each year through the Loyalty Fund. The only direct beneficiary is Clemson University and her students and alumni by reflection. This year's fund ends December 31. If you have not yet made your 1973 gift, please do so now/Lawrence V. Starkey '56, National Alumni President.

Thomas G. Clemson

Associates

The National Council of the Clemson Alumni Association has recently established the Thomas Green Clemson Associates program to recognize those alumni who make significant gifts to Clemson through the Alumni Loyalty Fund over long periods of time. Each Associate of the founder of Clemson University who has been an Associate for five or more years receives a handsome personalized plaque that signifies his or her years of giving at this level in increments of five years. The bottom of the plaque provides space for five, ten, fifteen, twenty, and twenty-five year medallions. There are today 311 Thomas Green Clemson Associates who are making Loyalty Fund gifts of $100 or more each year.

The plaque reads:
"... Name ... joins the founder of Clemson University in a dedication to higher education by making an annual gift of significance to the Clemson Alumni Loyalty Fund." Each alumnus and alumna is invited to become a Thomas Green Clemson Associate by making the desire known to the Alumni Association.

CENTERS

One of Clemson's most beautiful buildings, both inside and out, is the Robert Muldrow Cooper Library. Talking things over in the lobby of the library are the Tigers' centers. 1-Ron Bowlan, 2-Bill Dobbins, 3-Wayne Neely, 4-John Bolubasz.

QUARTERBACKS

The Clemson quarterbacks found a pretty girl to pose with them on the wall outside their dormitory, Mauldin Hall. 1-Ken Pengitore, 2-Lawson Holland, 3-Miss Judy Jaynes, Clemson's 1972 homecoming queen, 4-Mike O'Cain, 5-Mark Fellers.

OFFENSIVE TACKLES

Some of the Clemson offensive tackles find the reflection pool in front of the Robert Cooper Library cooling and refreshing compared to the practice field. 1-Maret Cobb, 2-Curt Buttermore, 3-Frank Bethea, 4-Ford Gibson, 5-Henry Allen, 6-George Hyams.

OFFENSIVE GUARDS

Steps at Fike Field House, which formerly housed the Tiger dressing rooms, afford a stop for Clemson's offensive guards. 1-Ed Homonoff, 2-Guy Lombardo, 3-Al Murray, 4-Ken Burgess, 5-Art Brisacher, 6-Neal Jetton.

SPECIALISTS

Bowman Field has been identified with Clemson almost as long as the school has existed. The Tiger punters and placekickers talk over business at the two cannons which rest at the top of the parade grounds. 1-Ricky Brown, 2-Bob Burgess, 3-Jim Shuler, 4-Mark Freeberg, 5-Chris Chappell, 6-Bob Becker, 7-Mitch Tyner.

STEVENS makes the yardage, too!

Clemson, the home of the Tigers, is also the home of Utica, Mohawk, and Tastemaker - Stevens' sheet and pillowcase lines of distinction! In textiles - as in football - it's performance that counts!

RUNNING BACKS

Tillman Hall is the best known landmark at Clemson. And coach Red Parker hopes that these running backs, who were caught on the steps of the former administrative building, will become best known by the end of the season. 1-Leon Hope, 2-Toni Mathews, 3-Smilely Sanders, 4-Chuck Huntley, 5-George Bosse, 6-Marvin Anderson, 7-Jerry Belue, 8-O. J. Tyler.

DEFENSIVE TACKLES

The Thomas G. Clemson statue, long a fixture in front of Tillman Hall, is literally mobbed by Clemson's defensive tackles. 1-David LeBel, 2-G. G. Galloway, 3-Tim Blackwelder, 4-Bruce Decock, 5-Bill Lynch, 6-Church Gordon, 7-Dan McBride, 8-Harry Fulwood.

IPTAY = SUCCESS

The 1972-73 IPTAY year closed a week ago yesterday, and for the second straight year, over a half million dollars were contributed by a group of people, who has to be the staunchest athletics supporters in the world.

For the ninth straight year IPTAY funds increased over the previous 12 months.

Contributions totalled over $579,000, which was 102 per cent of a goal set at $565,000, and was $52,000 more than the 1971-72 IPTAY year.

Not only was the goal set by the officers and directors met, but something new was added — the Clemson IPTAY Scholarship Fund — for the purpose of receiving contributions for perpetual and life memberships in each membership category.

The first to give funds for the endowed scholarship was Mr. and Mrs. C. Guy Gunter of Greenville. The Gunter gift was by far the largest ever received by IPTAY in its history and the income from this fund will be sufficient for one full athletic scholarship each year.

Twenty-four counties in the State of South Carolina as well as the states of North Carolina and Georgia exceeded their goals.

Leading the way in the state was Jasper County with 241 per cent. Falling behind Jasper and their percentages were Cherokee (134), Beaufort (129), Edgefield (121), Lexington (118), Fairfield (116), Clarendon (114), Horry (113), Oconee (110) and Allendale (109).

Greenville County which raised 101 per cent of its goal, had the largest contributions of any county in the state with $83,010. Next in total contributions were Richland ($56,130), Pickens ($42,340), Anderson ($37,400), Spartanburg ($32,420), Florence ($15,760), Greenwood ($15,560), Lexington ($13,490), York ($12,990) and Orangeburg ($12,980).

The 1974 goal has been set at $600,000, with the IPTAY year running from last Saturday to next August 31st.

Organized in 1934, IPTAY (I Pay Twenty A Year) functions with just one purpose in mind — to finance athletic scholarships for Clemson's 11 intercollegiate sports. The club operates today just as it did 40 years ago. Not one single penny contributed to IPTAY during these four decades has been used for anything other than scholarships. All contributions made to IPTAY are tax deductible.

The beginning of IPTAY was the biggest shot in the arm ever received by Clemson athletics. Thousands of student-athletes have received an education through this organization which might not have been possible otherwise.

But no one, not even the late Dr. Ruppert H. (Rube) Fike, its founder, imagined that IPTAY would expand in the manner as it stands today.

IPTAY members are winners today and they are helping make winners for tomorrow.

CLEMSON 1973-74 BASKETBALL

It could be the beginning of a new era for Clemson basketball as Tates Locke enters his fourth season at the Tiger helm.

Locke's cagers have improved each year under his guidance and the Clemson mentor figures his 1973-74 unit will be his best yet, although the Tigers operate out of the nation's toughest basketball league -- the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Two starters return from the 72-73 squad in the form of 6-2 Van Gregg (13.6) and 6-6 Jeff Reisinger (11.7). The southpaw shooting Gregg was tabbed by Locke as "the best shooter I have ever coached," whereas Reisinger was the only Tiger to start in all 26 games last season.

Also back from a year ago are 6-0 Terrell Suit (7.1) and 6-9 Wayne Croft (4.8) to fight for a starting role.

Locke will inherit the services of his top six players from the jayvee unit headed by 6-0 Bruce Harman (20.2) and 6-8 Marty Patterson (16.3). In addition, 6-0 Tim Capehart (15.6), 6-9 Charlie Rogers (15.2), 6-2 David Dobson (11.8) and 6-9 Scott Conant (11.6) will all have a shot at one of the top spots.

Jo Jo Bethea, a 6-1 backcourt ace, chipped in 16.4 points per game for Anderson Junior College last season, and together with his defensive ability, could find himself in a starting role.

Freshman signees who might figure in with the varsity include 6-3 Donald Boop of Orrville, O.; 6-8 David Brown of York, Pa.; 6-6 Andy Butchko of Sharon, Pa.; 6-2 John Franken of Colonia, N.J., and 7-1 Wayne Rollins of Cordele, Ga.

Two years ago BASKETBALL NEWS rated Clemson's schedule as the toughest cage slate in the nation and a year ago it was ranked as the sixth toughest. And Locke's cagers promise even more exciting play for the 1973-74 campaign.

MEET... MARION REEVES

CLEMSON'S VETERAN
DEFENSIVE BACK, FELLOWSHIP OF
CHRISTIAN ATHLETES
STUDENT LEAGUE
FOR BLACK IDENTITY

Marion Reeves is making the most of his college career. While studying for his academic degree at Clemson, he is also preparing to fulfill his military obligation as a commissioned officer in the U. S. Army. Marion is enrolled in the course that trains him to be a leader—

ARMY ROTC

And as you already know, Marion does find time for his favorite sports. He established himself as a starter early in his sophomore year, and during that season, picked off four opponent passes, including two in the Tigers' 17-7 win over South Carolina. Back for his final year in '73, he is responsible for the most demanding and difficult position on the team—cornerback.

BUT a student at Clemson University does not have to be a varsity athlete to get more from his college experience than an academic degree. Army ROTC at Clemson University provides an opportunity to make a college education a degree better by obtaining a commission as a second lieutenant in the United States Army upon graduation.

The Game Is Life

By Dot Yandle

Associate Experiment Station Editor

Head, Heart, Hands and Health. Requirements for a winning team?

You bet!

These four basics are behind one of the state's most successful teams — season after season — the 4-H Clubs. The members are 80,000 strong. And the game is Life.

Eddie Martin, a senior at Belton-Honea Path High School in Anderson County, plans to come to Clemson next year to major in some phase of agriculture. He is one of the 600 4-H members from over the state who attended the annual conference on the campus this year.

"I guess I got started in 4-H just tagging along with my brother," says Eddie, who has been an active member since he was nine years old.

His clear blue eyes glint as he recalls his first project. He worked on an electric bell device and while he was nervously giving his demonstration, he got a healthy shock. That's been quite a few years back and lots of projects have been successes since then.

This year Eddie is South Carolina's State Electric Winner. He says that was a shock, too. (He's still following along behind his brother, also a state winner.)

"4-H is not just chickens and cows and pigs," says Eddie. "We do all sorts of things city kids are interested in, too, like rocketry, photography, fashions, automative projects and things like that."

"City kids" have learned about the many advantages of 4-H work. Whereas the membership was once entirely rural, now two-thirds of 4-H members do not live on farms.

During the three days at Clemson during the summer, the 4-H'ers discussed animal care, home management and dozens of other topics with faculty members; took tours that ran the gamut from engineering to basketball; participated in demonstrations on subjects such as foods, safety and electricity and presented fashions for both boys and girls.

They learned to develop film, handle a camera and reviewed movies made by other teens. Home management courses, featuring titles such as "Money Talks — Or — You've Got to Have a Plan, Man, " livened up sessions dealing with the responsibilities of living on one's own.

A youngster who enters 4-H at nine and continues through high school receives nearly ten years of solid training in the mental, spiritual, physical and social aspects of life.

Clemson's Georgia Roberson, state 4-H Youth Development Coordinator, says, "A young person involved in all the interesting and good projects offered by the 4-H program doesn't have time to waste his life on the bad things."

Eddie Martin's family does happen to be among the one-third of 4-H families who live on a farm. His mother is a 4-H leader and has been responsible for encouraging her sons' interest in the work.

Eddie says the things he's learned have helped him in electrical projects on his father's farm as well as in the family kitchen. He says all 4-H programs are open to both girls and boys and many members have taken advantage of learning heretofore sex-exclusive skills. One South Carolina 4-H'er has become an expert tailor, making many clothes for himself that an experienced seamstress would quake to tackle!

Soft-spoken Eddie Martin gives the impression that there wouldn't be much he would be afraid to tackle, himself. Maybe that's because of the self-assurance 4-H members get from their successes in playing the game of Life.

A winning strategy requires a game plan that includes not only "know-how", teamwork, stamina, and desire, but a key play which will contribute greatly to this end. This is the concept that has fired the go-and-grow of Sandoz Colors and Chemicals. For the future, the key play calls for a largely expanded and completely modernized laboratory, warehouse, and office facilities in Charlotte to meet the growing needs of the dynamic Southeast.
